

Airport Heights Park Master Plan Concepts presented Sept. 5, 2024

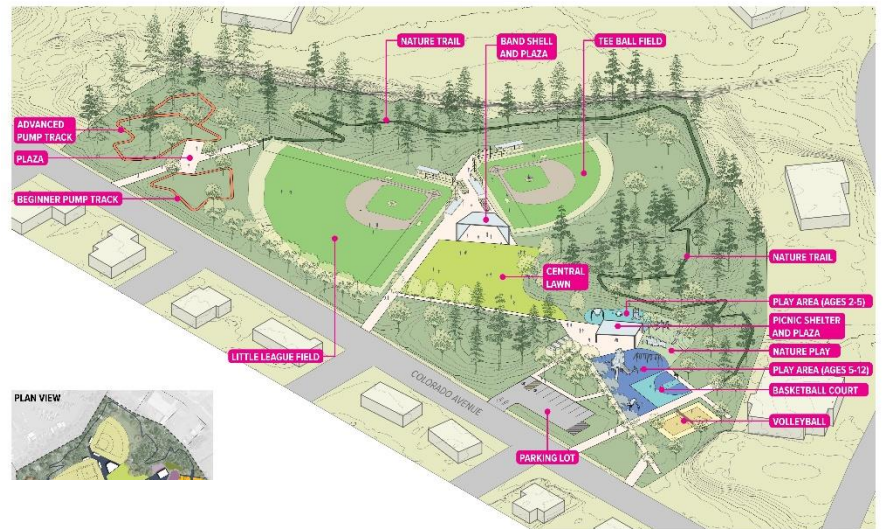

The Loop

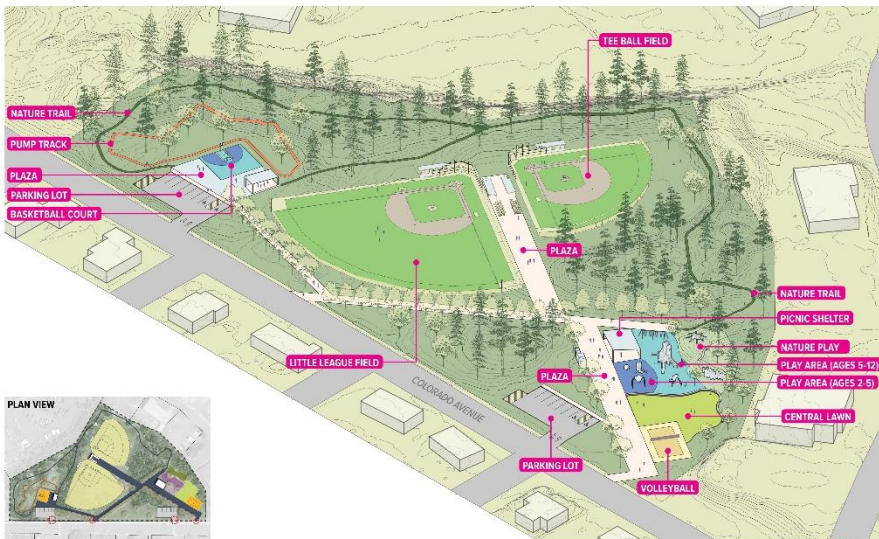

The Loop is the heaviest-touch proposal that reorientates the baseball fields. To do this would require the most movement of dirt to create the best topography for field construction. That would include building a retaining wall. There are three separate plazas (an athletic, community, and teen area).

The Commons is the medium-touch proposal. It includes a regulation Little League field and one regulation Tee Ball Field. The play and sports courts are still located by the senior center. There is a single on-site parking lot. The concept includes two separate plaza areas, a medium-sized central lawn, and two pump tracks for beginners and advanced.

The Commons

The Runway

The Runway: This is the lightest touch to the park area. It leaves the Baseball diamonds in the positions they're in now. It includes a Teen zone at the basketball court and a pump track. There is some onsite parking. Two linear plaza areas. The play areas stay near the Senior Center and the basketball court is separated from the play area.
